

September 2004

CV of Hans F. Hoffmann

Dr. Hans F. Hoffmann, born in 1942, German nationality; PhD (physics); Staff member of CERN since 1972.

Main activities:

Organisation of large particle physics experiments in multinational collaborations;
Technical Coordinator of UA1 (1977-1985), 250 scientists, 25 institutes
Technical Coordinator of ATLAS (1994-1999), 1800 scientists, 152 institutes in 35 countries

CERN Member of ESTA, (European Science and Technology Assembly) (1994-1997).

Directorate positions at:

DESY: (Deutsches Elektronen Synchrotron/Hamburg)
Director of Central Services (including computing), 1985-1989

CERN:

Director of Technical Support, 1990-1993

Director of Technology Transfer, Scientific Computing, 1999-2003
(responsible for launching grid computing at CERN (DataGrid, EGEE, LCG, the first global application of grids); responsible for launching technology transfer at CERN).

Organiser of “RSIS” (Role of Science in the Information Society) at CERN (Dec. 2003), a WSIS “summit event”.

Present position: CERN Senior Physicist, responsible for:

Creating a R&D programme for LHC experiments
CERN participation to WSIS, Phase II.